We are the Silent Knights, based in Central Scotland we provide professional Silent Disco services to festivals and events across the country. Our great roster of DJ's and staff make sure every disco goes down a storm with the festival goers!

Silent Disco's are a hugely popular activity at festivals large and small and the wireless headphone technology can also offer some other amazing and functional applications!

1

Our team come to event and get quickly set up!
Our friendly staff man the headphone depot and dish out the headphones to the attendees!

2

The Silent Knights DJ's get to work and get the tunes spinning!
Red Channel versus the Blue Channel, perhaps Indie v's Dance or Pop v's Hip-Hop the possibilities are endless!

3

Both the DJ's music is sent across the room via our Radio Transmitters with each and every headphone picking up both channels. Only those wearing the headphones can hear the music!

Guests can flick between channels via switch on the headphones, the headphones glow blue or red depending on channel being listened to.
